NexisUK
Newspapers from around the world

News and newspapers can be a good source of background information to a topic as well as helping to identify differing points of view and controversial issues. NexisUK provides access to international and UK based newspapers. It is also strong on business and finance, and includes Industry Reports, Company Profiles and Mergers & Acquisitions.

COVERAGE
NexisUK has searchable archives of hundreds of newspapers and other news sources from many countries, including France, Germany, Italy, Spain, the United States and the UK. It contains the text of nearly all the articles in many newspapers from the early 1990s to the present. There are a few newspapers from the 1970s or 1980s onwards.

STARTING
1. Do an iFind search for NexisUK and click on the full text link. If prompted, enter your Swansea University username and password into the username and password box (this is the same as your email login). Or:
2. Access the resource via your subject’s library guide. If prompted, enter your Swansea University username and password.

SEARCHING FOR NEWS
Select the News tab from the grey bar at the top of the screen if it is not already selected.

You will see a Search term box at the top of the screen where you can type in search terms or phrases. You can add more Search term boxes by clicking on + Add another search term field. By clicking on the arrow next to Anywhere in the text you can see that you can search for these search terms In Headline or At Least 3 Occurrences etc.

By clicking on the arrow to the right of And you will see that keywords can be combined by And, Or etc.
Typing Hollande And Cameron will find articles containing both the words Hollande and Cameron.
Typing Hollande Or Cameron will find articles containing either Hollande or Cameron.
You can also search for the search terms within the Same Sentence, Same Paragraph or Within 5 Words.

Truncation
Use the ! symbol to truncate terms. The ! stands for any number of letters. For instance, terroris! will look for terrorism, terrorist, terrorists, terrorisme, terroriste, terroristes etc.
Use the * symbol to stand for a single letter. For instance, typing wom*n will find women, woman etc. The * can be used anywhere in a word apart from at the beginning. More than one asterisk can be used in a single word.

Limiting by date
You can limit your search to a specific date or range of days, using the drop-down menu to the right of All available dates. To search in a specific day, select Custom date and type the date.

Searching one newspaper
When you have run your search you can restrict your results to a particular newspaper. Click on Newspapers in the panel on the left of the screen and click on one of the newspaper titles listed.

DISPLAYING RESULTS
When a search is executed, you get a list of results (25 a page) sorted by relevance. If you click on the arrow to the right of the Sort box, you can sort them in order of publication date. Click on the blue text to see the text of an article.

SAVING, PRINTING AND E-MAILING RESULTS
You can save, print or e-mail the list of results or the full text of individual articles, by clicking on the appropriate icon near the top of the screen. If you wish to save, print or e-mail some but not all the results, click first on the boxes to the left of the articles you wish to select.

SEARCHING THE FINANCIAL TIMES
The Financial Times (FT) is not included in the News search. Instead click on the Sources tab at the top of the page and then select the Find Sources tab. In the Keyword box type Financial Times and click Find Sources. Then select Financial Times (London) from the list displayed on the page, and click on OK - Continue. You can then carry out a search of the Financial Times.

HELP
Click on Help in the top right hand corner of the screen. If you need further help, you can contact your Subject Librarian or the Library Desk.